WELCOME TO PUPG! This site allows users to upload pics of their pets, and then vote for which one is cutest! If you need help, you've come to the right place! Getting Started: When you first visit the site, you will not be logged in, and therefore, will have limited functionality. While not logged in, you can only view the homepage, leaderboard, and help(this) page. To get an account, you must first press login, on the top navigational bar, and then press register. Once you enter in the necessary info, congrats! You now have an account with us. After you enter your info on the register page, you will automatically be logged in. Logged In: Now that you're logged in, the real fun begins. You can press my profile to see your profile, along with any pets you've uploaded. Most of the info is self explanatory, but one thing you may notice is 'rank'. Rank is determined by how many votes you give out on the voting screen. You start as pet amateur, but as soon as you give out 100 votes, you will get your first promotion! How high up can you go? To vote for pets, simply press the 'vote' tab on the navigation bar on top. Here you will be displayed two different pets(picked at random), and you will be forced to pick which one is cuter. Simply click the button with the cuter pet's name to submit your vote. Once this is done, the voting page will be reloaded with two different pets. To ensure fairness, you will never see your own pet on the voting screen, because then you'd just vote for it. To submit a pet for voting, simply click the 'submit' tab on the top navigational bar and enter in the necessary info, upload a pic, and click submit pet! For your pet picture, please make sure the photo only has one pet in it,
